

DIED WHILE IN BARBER CHAIR GETTING SHAVED

Well Dressed Stranger Expired in New Amsterdam Hotel Shop.

HAD MORPHINE TABLETS

Thought to Be Hjalmar Westerfeldt, Manufacturer, of Brokaw, Wis.

A well-dressed man entered the barber shop of George Nimmer, under the New Amsterdam Hotel, Fourth avenue and Twenty-first street, to-day, and asked for a shave. He was about to step into the chair when he seemed to change his mind and asked to be directed to the bathroom. He remained in the bathroom about ten minutes and then lay back in the barber chair while Tony Zinnel dathered his chin.
"It's a fine day for May," ventured Tony, as he stropped his razor. The man in the chair did not reply. The barber, thinking he had a grumpy customer to deal with, made no further attempts at conversation till the man began shaving let his head sag till it was almost out of the rest at the back of the chair.

"Straighten up, please," began Tony.
Then he looked closer. The man's face was gray and he seemed to be suffering terrible pain.

"Run quick to the drug store. The man is sick," yelled the barber to Rocco Cappelli, the bootblack.

Rocco ran to Hass's drug store, No.
24 Fourth avenue, a block away.
Hermann Ottner, the clerk, told the bootblack he had no time to bother with sick men. He also refused to telephone for a doctor.

In the meantime the hotel people had telephoned for an ambulance from Bellevue, trying meantime to revive the unconscious man by the means they had at hand. When the hospital doctor arrived he said the man had been dead several minutes.

In the pockets of the body were found a vial containing a few morphine tablets and a hypodermic syringe. Besides these there were letters addressed to Hjalmar Westfeldt, manager of the Greenberg Paper and Fibre Mill, at Brokaw, Wis., and several checks made out to Westfeldt for sums of from $1 to $10. These were all on the National Bank of Milwaukee.

COUNT AND EDITOR IN BLOODLESS DUEL

PARIS, May 11.—Lucien Millevoye, editor of the Patrie, of this city, and a Nationalist member of the Chamber of Deputies fought a duel with pistols today with Count Mathieu de Noailles, an aristocrat and a member of the Chamber which took place between them May 9, when M. Millevoye broke his cane over the Count's head. Pistols were used and two shots exchanged at twenty-five paces. Neither of the duelists was hit.

The encounter between M. Millevoye and the Count de Noailles grew out of the recent elections, in which both competed for election in the sixteenth District of Paris. The Count challenged the editor to fight a duel, but the latter declined on the ground that political abuse did not warrant a hostile meeting. Thereupon the Count de Noailles attacked M. Millevoye on the street. The duel followed.

OPEN LATE SATURDAY NIGHTS.

Suits in the Most Perfect Style. May Be Paid For in Small Sums.

Even the man who cares nothing about cost, just so he has perfect style, will be satisfied with our clothing, because the fabrics are in the newest colorings and finest weaves, the tailoring all that any one can give and the models the work of the most expert designer.

We don't ask a man to buy our suits because of the price, but rather because of the quality of them; of course, the vast saving over the charges of the competent merchant tailor can be no objection, and is only an additional inducement.

Our enormous stock, ranging in price from $10 to $30, is at every man's disposal. He may select that which pleases him most, have it charged and pay in the smallest sums, weekly or monthly.

Men's Suits in Perfect Model.

Suits for men of all figures, of the richest Gray Worsted, in many shades, plain or checked and plaid effects, Black Tibbets, unfinished Worsted and Blue Serges; with charmingly planned and beautifully tailored single or double-breasted coats; the equal in style, fit and tailoring to anything you could have made to order for double the price. $18

The Suits for Young Men.

The suits we provide for young men are made by specialists who do nothing else.
They're distinctive in cut and of consistent fabrics, giving ultra style and perfect fit; no moderate-priced merchant tailor can hope to equal in design the young men's suits that we have at all prices, and none can give suits in the beautiful Gray fabrics for even double the price those we sell at. $15

JURY FAILS TO AGREE IN CAMPBELL CASE.

Pretty Typewriter Sued Widow of Her Employer for Money Alleged to Be Due Her.

After deliberating many hours, and far-into the night, the jury before whom was tried the action of Miss Dorothy M. Klemmeyer, against Mrs. Emma J.
Campbell, widow of Col. T. C. Campbell, to recover $147.72, $383 of which she said she had expended for the widow's benefit and the rest for services as a typewriter, was unable to agree.
Justice Amend sent the case back to the calendar for a new trial next month.
